A SIGNIFICANT GAIN

During the week ending January 13, 1917, THE WORLD printed 1,165 columns of paid advertising.

This was a gain of 4231/4 columns over the corresponding week of 1916,

In the same period the Herald gained only 23814 columns, the American 31214 columns the Times 397% columns.

THE WORLD is breaking many records these days, each, however, well carned. They simply evidence the appreciation and sound judgment of advertisers.
